

Thursday 19th February Today we played.....

Everyone in the sand pit ! Big shovels for digging as well as cooking utensils to pretend with. Lots of cups of tea and cakes and biscuits were being created !

Adam the investigator discovered the magnifying glass and closely inspected the gumnut. He also enjoyed feeling the goop "It's a bit hard". Lots of little fingers were able to thread the beads very well onto the string, manipulating it into the hole. With the little town the children built the houses up high and along. Walking the people about as well as driving the cars.

We read a big book called "Walking through the Jungle" the children loved the story. We read it three times over the day and Ellie asked to look at it herself. There is lots of repetition of words in the story which is great for predication and rhythm of language. Some children were helping me say the words by the third reading!!
